Rome, Marchs .- The vatican recently ser structions to Paris for the formation of a consultation with Senator Carlisle. A few Republican Conservative party in the Chamber of Deputies to act as the mouthpiece of the vatican in order to fight radicalism. When this fact came to the knowledge of the representatives at the Vatican of Austria, Germany, Spain and Portugal, they requested an explanation of the Pope's abandonment of his monarchical policy. In reply they were told that the instructions would only apply to France, and that the Vatican did not intend to display hostility to the existing monarchies.

EMIGRANT INSPECTION.

HAMBURG, March 8.—The Hamburg-American Packet Co., in conjunction with the Prussian authorities, has arranged that all Russian emigrants intending to proceed to the United States in the Hamburg-American steamers shall be inspected by experienced doctors before entering Prussia. Any more of these Russians who are suspected of being infected with typhus fever or other diseases will not be allowed to enter the country. All the emigrants' lodgings at Hamburg will be carefully supervised and a third examination will be made by two physicians under the direction of the United States Consul at Hamburg before the, emigrants are permitted to embark upon the steamer.

The description of the stones, as given by O'Malley, tallies exactly with those taken from Mrs. Taylor, and the description of the man suits the last description, as given by the Sheriff of Pettis County, Mo. The salesman at O'Malley's is confident that he can recognize the negro as he attracted particular attention from the fact he only wanted $18 on a pair of ear-rings worth probably $100. He claimed that the jewelry belonged to a woman named Rogers, and said she was an inmate of a low resort in this city. Inquiry develops the fact that no one of that name lives at the place named by the negro. Since stopping at the pawnbroker's shop the negro has not been seen. A strong suspicion exists that he is still in Denison, and, if so, the officers will apprehend him. The police-have an exact description of the alleged assailant and his arrest may be effected at any moment unless he has left the city.

Chief of Police Prentice has not yet returned from a hunt of a strongly suspected party whom he expected to locate between this point and Hannibal. While the investigation is as active as at the beginning, it is evident that the officials are puzzled.

Mr. Whitney is understood to have been the bearer of a message from Mr. Cleveland with reference to the ex-President's intentions, and there was an apparently inspired report at the Capitol yesterday afternoon that in a short time Mr. Cleveland will publicly announce his withdrawal from the race, at the same time issuing a manifesto, defining his attitude on the silver and tariff questions, and calling upon the party to present a solid front for tariff reform, whoever the candidate may be. Mr. Cleveland is also expected to repudiate the May convention.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 3 .- There is a movement on foot looking to the nomina-tion of Mr. Blaine at Minneapolis despite the letter he has written. Some of the most prominent Some of the most prominent Republicans in the country are enlisted in it, and the correspondence on the subject shows that the desire of Mr. Blaine's leadership is still widespread in the party. There is the highest authority for eaping that Mr. Blaine is well aware of the existence of this feeling. His old supporters have visited him repeatedly since the publication of his letter. Last week one of the more influential and experienced of the Republican Senators called on Mr. Blaine and told him frankly that the party ought to nominate him at Minneapolis and thereby draft him into their service. Mr. Blaine made no reply but treated his visitor with cordiality and pressed him to come again. He declared during the conversation that his physical condition was much improved.

The People's party will pursue a different course than either the old parties, and will hold only one convention to nominate its candidate for Congressman-at-large, delegates to the National Convention and its State ticket. Mr. S. W. Chase, chairman of the People's Party Executive Committee, is in the city for the purpose of conferring with the reform editors. He stated that he was in favor of holding the People's Party Convention just before the Republican Convention, and getting before the voters of the States. The People's party foliticians do not think it necessary to wait for the Omaha convention, as the Kansas people will stand on the platform adopted at St. Louis. A most remarkable feature of the campaign is the impression which prevails among a number of the People's party politicians that Harrison Kelly, the ex-Congressman who was defeated two years ago by John G. The refreshing sleep which Mr. Springer had sleep which Mr. Springer had Tuesday night brought such renewed invigoration that his family became hopeful that the crisis in the disease had been passed, but although he slept for two hours last night his condition this morning was much worse. The disease from which Mr. Springer has been suffering (erysipelas) has hereto-fore been confined to his face, but it now threatens to attack the brain, and this turn, according to his physicians, generally has a fatal termination. Besides this the patient's ondition is aggravated by a hacking cough of such persistence as to cause insomnia, and added to this is the effect of worry produced livan County, Ind., May 80, 1886. He removed to Illinois with his parents in 1848 at the age of 12 years, and graduated at the Indiana. State University in 1859, and after a course at law, he was admitted to the bar in 1869. The young advocate was chosen Secretary of the State Constitutional Convention of Illinois in 1862. He was a member of the State Legislature of Illinois in 1871-72, and was elected to the forty-fourth Congress as a Democrat. He received 10,628 votes against 9,027 votes for his opponent, Andrew Simpson, an independent Republican. Mr. Springer was re-elected to the Forty-fifth Congress, and he has sat in the Lower House of the Nation's Legislature ever since.

His personal address is extremely pleasing and he counts his friends in the House by the only shown real ability but most surprising ingenuity. He was the bete noire of Speaker Reed during the troublous times that fol-lowed upon the Speaker's autocratic rulings in the last House. The Illinois member raised the most unheard of points or order and made the most astonishing parliamentary inquiries, all with a suave, deferential manner that often puzzled the Speaker to know that often puzzled the Speaker to know whether Mr. Springer was in earnest or only "guying." Owing to his long service in the House the Illnoisian's mind is well stored with precedents for all occasions, and the knotty problems that he frequently offered the Chair for solution were generally based upon a genuine transaction recorded in an old copy of the Congressional Globe which Mr. Springer had stored away in his desk.

It is said of Mr. Springer that he has never lost an opportunity to do a member a favor. This compliment is not to be construed as meaning that he has gone in for all tance to his colleagues has been of a friendly personal nature and has made his popularity

Mr. Springer has been returned to Congress nine times from what is known as the San-gamon district, and has filled important places on the House committees.

He was a prominent candidate for Speaker at the organisation of the Fifty-second Congress, but at a critical point threw his influence in favor of Mr. Crisp, thus insuring his election over Mills of Texas.

At the organization of the present House be was made chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and by reason of this position was regarded as the leader of his party in this branch of Congress.

AMONG THE MANDISTS.

Pather Ohrwalder's Description of the Situation in the Soudan. LONDON, March 3 .- Father Ohrwalder, the Austrian missionary who for eight years was a captive among the Mahdists at Khartoum and Omdurman, has furnished the Royal tion of his captivity and the sufferings of those Europeans who are still in the hands of the Dervishes. Father Ohrwalder has thrown much light on what has been heretofore little understood about the strange country ruled over by the Faise Prophet. Much of this information is made public by the London Times. It was estimated a few years ago that the population of the Egyptian Soudan was at least 12,000,000. Father Ohrwalder is of the opinion that at least three-fiths of the entire population have been destroyed during the past ten years by war, famine and disease. Women are now in a large preponderance utary of the Nile. He attended a recent conference of the Emir at Omdurman. The Khalifa has no intention of sending an expedition to reconquer the districts he has lost. It is believed that the best way to reconquer the Soudan, if offensive measures are taken, would be to send expeditions simultaneously from the North and the South, one party to ascend the Nile from Cairo, another to descend it from Emin's province. There are still in Omdurman more than seventy-five Europeans, men, women and children. There are also about five hundred Copts and more than 1,500 Egyptians. The European prisoners are at large in and around Omdurman, and those who are not employed by the Government are in a state of beggary.

WILL FIGHT FOR FREEDOM.

The Movement to Throw Off the Spanish Yoke in Cuba and Porto Rico.

New York, March 3.—The determination of the Cuban exiles now in the United States to strike another blow for the liberty of their country meets with favor from the Porto Ricans of New York. They will aid the movement, and in so doing hope to rid their own little island of the hated Spanish yoke. They have organized a revolutionary club called "Club Buriquena." Senor Sotero Figueroa is President; Valez Abrarado, Vice-They have organized a revolutionary club called "Gub Buriquena." Senor Sotero Figueroa is President; Valez Abrarado, Vice-President; Dr. Heraga, Treasurer, and F. J. Marin, Secretary.

Don Jose Marti, a Cuban by birth, who has held several diplomatic positions, says: "Cuba and Porto Rico have always been striving for the same result, but by different methods. While in Cuba the struggle for independence lasted ten years, the outbreak which took place in Porto Rico, at Lares, was immediately suppressed, owing to the help-lessness of the rebels.

"After the war in Cuba the Cubans began new and more methodical means for the final triumph of the revolution. They saw the mistakes of their previous attempts and decided not to fight again until all the factions of the island were harmoniously united with a view to found a republic or other lines than a military despotism or a government that would be racked by internal dissension.

"Annexation to the United States as a political solution of the difficulty has never been seriously contemplated by the majority of the people on the island. While friendship for the United States is universal, it is not thought advantageous éther for the United States or Cuba to enter into a political compact. The Cubans are anxious to develop in their own way their own republic.

"All efforts to secure concessions from the Spanish Government, relief from excessive taxation and the like have proved failures. The annual sugar crop is not enough to pay these heavy burdens and leave the planter anything for himself.

"In Porto Rico the case has been even worse. The island is rapidly becoming depopulated. There are 100 Forto Ricans in New York to day, where three years ago there was only one. They all feel that their only relief lies in the independence of the island.

"When the Cubans are prepared to act with one mind the Porto Ricans will be ready to act with one mind the Porto Ricans will be ready to act with one mind the Porto Ricans will be ready to act with one mind the Porto Ricans and e Figueroa is President; Valez Abrarado, Vice-

LONDON'S COAL SUPPLY.

GENTLES, NORTHWEST COR.

How the Proposed Shut Down Will Affect Consumers.

LONDON, March 3 .- As the time approache for the inauguration of the so-called strike of miners who on March quit work for two the coal 12 will such an advance in the price of coal as will prevent the mine owners from reducing wages, the effects of the move pened to pay tribute in the increased prices for fuel, or in the case of manufacturers, close down their works and lose the profits of their business.

At Sheffield the rolling mills and the Forgers and Titlers' Association announce the works will be closed during the miners' strike. This decision affects thousands of cutters, grinders and forgers. All the employes of the engineering works, fron foundries and wagon building works connected with Lord Durham and Lord Londonderry's colleries have given notice that those works will also be closed. Seven thousand railway employes connected with the collieries will also be thrown out of work.

The price of coal in the Sheffield district has risen as per ton. In Dublin there has been a still further increase, and the price is now up as per ton.

The Leicostershire coal mine owners to-day gave notice of a further advance in the price of coal. Three shillings per ton is the advance agreed upon. This makes a total rise of 7 shillings per ton within a month.

The action of miners in announcing that they would go on strike on the 12th inst., and the rapid rise in the prices of coal following that announcement is producing a panic. The cold weather which has led to the consumption of a large quantity of coal continues to prevail, and this fact has caused the alarm to become greater than would otherwise have been the case. No one knows where the advancing prices will stop, and consequently everybody is anxious to lay in enough coal now to carry them over the two weeks' strike. The dealers who sell to consumers are flooded with orders, and all the coal wharves and depot are besieged with small dealers. The merchants declare that if the present demand is continued the stocks will last for only two days.

The newspapers all publish articles in ref-erence to the situation, and urge the public not to become panic-stricken, as prices can-not make a much further advance, owing to foreign competition.

The retailers are doubling the advance made by the mine owners. Belgiak Miners to Co-offerate.

Brussels, March S.—Rumors have been current here that in consequence of the proposed strike of the English coal miners action would be taken here to prevent Belgian mine owners from exporting their product to England, and thus sid in the defeat of the English miners, who, on March 12, will cease work for a fortnight, their object being to so restrict the output as to cause the consumers to pay higher prices and thus afford the mine owners no excuse to carry into effect their contemplated reduction in wages.

A representative of the Associated Press had an interview to day with the well known Belgian socialist and labor leader, M. Volders, in relation to this rumor, and learned from him that the Belgian workingmen's party and the Miners' Federation are new engaged in preparing a manifesto urging the Belgian miners to restrict the output. In the strikes that have occurred in Belgium, the miners of Great Britain, and now that the opportunity offers their leaders think it no more than justice that they aid by every means in their power their British brethven in securing the end they are struggling for. M. Volmers said he felt certain that the movement in England would lead to a number of local strikes in Belgium. BELGIAN MINERS TO CO-OPERATE.

MIRACULOUS CURES.

Thousands of Unfortunates Flook to See Father Thomas Adams of Brooklyn. NEW YORK, March 8 - Rev. Thomas Adams ontinues the work of healing the sick at his so'clock in the morning, but from that hour until far into the night he is kept pretty busy. Sunday is the busiest day, but on all days he has until far into the night he is kept pretty busy. Sunday is the busiest day, but on all days he has all he can do. Last Sunday the young woman who attends the calls at the door estimated that over a thousand people had come to get relief from their aliments. The fame of the priest's alleged miraculous cures threatens to overburden him with patients.

In the rear of the pariors is a small private office where the father keeps the precious relics—the place of the true cross, the bones of the saints and other mementoes—and performs his cures. A heavy curtain separates this room from the pariors. About every twenty minutes Father Adams pulls back the curtain and admits about twenty of the surferers. The others crowd around the curtain and wait for their turn.

Within the curtain the healing ceremonies are very simple. The priest offers prayer, converses with the patients, exhibits and apther relies and blesses the patients. They then kneel and offer their own devotions as Father Adams directs, he prays again with them and dismisses them. They go out by a side door and the next twenty are admitted. He asks none of them for money for his services, but there is a box on the table in which they may leave contributions if they see fit. Many of the patients do not pay anything because they are too por, but all are treated exactly alike. If all paid at the usual rates for medical services Father Adams would soon get rich.

Men and women of all ages and all conditions of life and innumerable children were in the company that visited him yesterday. While they were waiting for a chance to get into the priest's presence they talked in whilspers about the wonderful cures that he is said to have effected. One was a Williamsburg boy who had been fatteen years a cling the form rheumatism. After one of the relies had been applied to his forebead, and the father had prayed for him, he was taken home and the next day he was perfectly well. His crutches were thrown away, for he could walk as well as apybody. Another case was a girl wh

Company. New York, March 3. - The decision by the Ohio Supreme Court in the case of the Stand. ard Oil Co. is the first serious blow the big corporation has felt for some time. Presient Rockefeller refused to discuss the de cision, and all newspaper men were referred to Mr. s. C. T. Dood, General Solicitor of the oil company.

"The point at issue," Mr. Dood explained was this: The Attorney General claimed "was this: The Attorney General claimed that the Standard Oil Co. of Ohlo was party to certain trust agreements and that these agreements were ultra vires. He claimed they were agreements between corporations and therefore lilegal. He asked for the forfetture of the charter of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohlo, by reason of its having entered into the contracts.

"Now the court finds that we entered into lilegal contracts and orders us to get out of lilegal contracts and orders us to get out of them. It will embarrass us to get out, for we were never in."

"Will the case be carried to the Supreme Court of the United States?" Mr. Dood was asked.
"No. I think not."
"Have you heard that the Attorney-General of New York has papers to file against the Standard Oil Co. in this State; that he only waited for a decision in the Ohio court to take action?" to take action?"

"I have heard something of this," Mr. Dood answered, "but I do not believe it. The law of New York differs from that of Ohio, and I can see no possible ground of action."

HILLSBORO, Ill., March 3.—Residents of and cities, particularly the business men of the significance of a report circulated in reference to postal facilities in the future. The report asserts that Second-Assistant Postmaster-General J. Lowry Bell has issued notice to all transportation lines now in receipt of "special facility pay that the same will shortly be withdrawn," and adding that no appropriation for this purpose has been recommended to Congress in the annual report of the department.

This means considerably more than would appear upon its face at first glance. It means, if true, that within five or six months not only the country towns but the cities as well be thrown a step backward in the way of mail facilities and have to be content with the accommodations of ten years ago, when a city located upon but one line of railroad received from a large city distributing center one until a day and sent out one mail a day. It means that the business man in the country town adjacent to St. Louis or Chicago can send but one mail to these places, while at the present time he can send from two to three mails per day to any of the larger cities and more than this if he is located in a town with more than one railroad running through it.

GRANITOID SIDEWALKS.

The Paving Limits Extended to King' Highway-City Hall News. The new granitoid ordinance will become law within a few days. Under its provisions the old district now reaching as far as Twelfth street will be extended King's highway, and Market street to Franklin avenue. All side-walks within these limits must hereafter be constructed or reconstructed with granitoid; no brick or inferior paving material can be utilized. The walks already constructed of this material in the business district have given great satisfaction and proved a splendid wearing material. To mave all the sidewalks in the residence portion of the city built of this material will add greatly to the beauty of these thoroughfares."

DETROIT, Mich., March 3.-This morning the return of the writ of corpus against "Prince" corpus against "Prince" Michael and his "affinity lovers," issued at the instance of Joseph T. Richardson, was made before Judge Brevcort. Prince Michael, with his long hair, and Mrs. Richardson, the respondent, were present. The room was packed with people and a mong the crowd were a dozen of the ugliest "angels" one ever hoped to see. The case was adjourned until 3 o'ciock.

When the Prince and his followers started out of the court-room and got to the corridor the crowd swooped down upon them and almost carried them bodily out of the City Hail. Shouts of derision were raised. "Throw them in the river;" "Give the Prince a cold bath "and other such cries went up. The crowd caused the gang around the streets for haif an hour. When the hooting crowd reached Congress street, a man was seen running in the middle of the road with a gun in his hand and a dog at his heels. The man with the gun threatened to shoot the "Prince." The fanatics went into the office of their lawyers, and the crowd massed in front of it and kept up its hooting for a considerable time.

DISPRANCHISED MISSOURIANS.

In 1888, at the election for President of the United States, there were cast in this State 523 189 votes Of this number a slight fraction over 50 per cent, or 261,974, was cast for the Democratic candidate. For the Republican candidate there were cast 236,257 votes—something over 45 per cent of the total vote. All other presi dential candidates received 24,987 votesless than one-half of 1 per cent of the total

The theory upon which our Federa Government was established is that it is a representative government: that the whole of the people-that is, the legal votersshall have a voice in the making of the laws which shall govern them. As a question of fact is this true?

Under the last enumeration of the people of this State, Missouri is entitled to fifteen members of the Lower House of Congress According to the last general enunciation of the political sentiment or principles of the people of the State, in order to carry out the theory upon which the Federal Government was established, the Democrats should have eight and the Republicans seven members of the House of Representatives. Under such a division of the representatives each party would have a voice in the making of the laws according to its numerical strength, and this, it eems to us, is the way it should be.

But what do we see? The General Assembly of the State is engaged in making representative districts so as to insure the election of fourteen Democrats out of the fifteen members. In fact many Democrats demand that the districts shall be so ara Democratic State he probably wanted ranged that not even one Republican can be elected.

Of course such action is a complete denial of the right of the minority to a voice in EMPEROR WILLIAM must be credited the law making power of the Government, be perpetrated by all parties, in various States of the Union, until the honest peo ple everywhere rise up and put out and down the political scoundrelism that controls the various parties. > The fact that fully as many Democrats are deprived of Federal representation in nelly isn't in the least like Mirabeau, the Ohio or some other Republican State does not make it right for us to deprive 236,257 Missouri voters of Federal representation. The Democratic theory is that a party in power in any State of this Union betrays the most sacred trust if it does not use its power to guarantee equality of civil and political rights to all citizens of the State. If this can not be done fully under our vantage of them to wrong our own fellow-citizens, our own flesh and blood. The fact that even Democrats in power are prone to abuse it thus is a proof that we need a change in both Federal and State laws to insure a proper representation of all parties according to their numerical strength in the making of laws. Only thus can the "collective wisdom" of 65,000,000 of people operate fully and fairly upon our legislative and administrative machinery.

The judicial salaries of the United States Courts are standing monuments of the timid-ity and hypocrisy of our legislators. Every one knows that the salaries are inadequate, that they are far less than the value of the vices we exact in return, and far less than the earnings in practice of any lawyer fit to be made Judge. Yet they remain as they are simply because Congress has not the courage to do what is right.

The country has not yet had the spectacle of a Chief Justice retiring from the Supreme corporation, and it is to be noped that we be no deeper reproach than the spectacle of Chief Justice's widow struggling erty in her old age. Mr. McKinley boasts as one who putteth his armor off. "The Democrats," he says, "will not be able to change a page of the tariff in ten years." And further: "It would not be changed in twenty-five years on the plan marked out by the present Congress, It certainly will not be changed for the better on this or any other plan so long as the Re publican party controls either house of Congress, or if the Democrats control both houses by less than a two-thirds majority in each unless there is at the same time a Demo cratic President. But let not Mr. McKinley be too confident. His bill has not grown in popular favor since November, 1890. A year om next March he will see a Democrat in issue, and it will not take long to change the than five years Mr. McKinley will probably see more than one page of the tariff changed and so changed as to save the people at least $100,000,000 a year.

The Comptroller and Lucky Street

To the Editor of the Post- Dispatch: Good is sometimes accomplished by "kick ing," especially if the press lends its aid in the cause that is just. Maj. Turner, former Street Commissioner, may remember an instance of this which resulted in the widening of Easton avenue from sixty to eighty feet soon after he had declared the project dead. I now, with others, "kick" a bout Lucky street. Ordinance 15,669, to widen it from Taylor avenue westward, was approved from raylor avenue westward, was approved June 30, 1890. Every necessary step was accomplished to the point where money is to be appropriated by the Municipal Assembly to pay damages assessed, and still the Comptroller declines to forward the matter to the Assembly.

It is probably true that there is no money in sight for this purpose, but the Assembly has just adopted "ordinances to appropriate money to pay damages assessed for opening Deimar avenue, from the west line of the G. P. common fields to Taylor avenue, under ordinance approved March 6, 1891, and Whittler street, from Easton to Evans, under ordinance of same date, The question is naturally suggested: "Why were appropriations made as to March, 1891, and not as to January, 1892" Why are we dismissed from the Comptroller's office with the curt remark as to Lucky street, "There's the curt remark as to Lucky street, "There' to money for this." King to Consul Cahill

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: I read with much interest in yesterday' ssue Mr. Cahill's comment on my letter in serve a general indorsement of the arguments used by me in favor of St. Louis as a manufacturing center, although Cahill's loyalty to the enterprise makes him to the Lucas look one highly important fact, which is that, much as it values and appreciates the trade of Mexico, st. Louis does not depend upon it solely, because it is the natural metropolis of the entire Mississippi Valley, including the whole country between the Alleghany and Rocky Mountains, which teritory should naturally look to St. Louis for its supply of manufactured goods.

So far as Mexico is concerned St. Louis may have to regard New York as a competitor, but from a manufacturer's standpoint our city is without a rival so far as the West. South, Southwest and Northwest are concerned, which fact emphasizes clearly the position that I took that St. Louis is excelled by no point in the United States as a manufacturing center and that its natural advantages are so great that there are very few points in the United States which could even venture to compete with it, if the citizens of St. Louis were fully alive to all the advantages which it possesses.

It possesses.

I would say, however, that while I do not agree with Mr. Cahill's views in his criticism of St. Louis, yet from what I have been able to learn of the Lucas ship enterprise, it would, doubtless, if properly carried out, be of very great benefit to St. Louis in its trade relations with Mexico, South America and Europe.

NOTHING DONK.

Some of the Democratic leaders in the two branches who have been of the opinion all along that an extra session of the Assembly would do the party more harm than good, are now beginning to declare that they prophesied correctly. As matters stand now the Legislature has accomplished practically nothing with the five subjects of special legislation named in the Governor's proclamation outside of the Jefferson Barracks cession and the Representative opportionment act. There was no occasion to dispute over the measure on these two subjects and they will soon be ready for the Governor's signature. The situation is entirely different with the Congressional and judicial redistricting and the State University matter. Nothing has been done with the University matter beyond a mass of discussion, which bids fair to continue for some time. A bill was introduced in the Senate by Senator Clay yesterday making the appropriation to rebuild the university, but the House stands pledged by itspresolution adopted a week ago not to vote a penny until the power of the Assembly to relocate the institution is finally decided.

The Congressional redistricting threatens also to create a snarl and help prolong the district. This is the State Central Committee's plan, but it does not seem to have much chance with the House in its present mood. The Senate has done nothing as yet on this subject, not even one bill having been introduced. The Senate committee is ready, however, and is waiting patiently for the House to lay aside the State University discussion and take up something else. Several conferences have been held between the House and Senate Committees on Congressional Districts, but no results have been obtained. To-night there will be a caucus of all the Democratic members of the two branches, when it is expected some others want South St. Louis made part of a district with a big Republican majority, while others for the sake of caution favor the idea of making two or three big Republican districts, leaving the others solidly Democratic. Though there are seventeen members on the House Committee, hot one in the number hails from the Eighth Congressional District. St. Louis was given two members in Representatives Church and Ryan, both of whom live in the Ninth District. The members from the Eighth do not like the arrangement a bit but are powerless to remedy matters. Representative Ryan says he will see that no changes are made in the Eighth outside of straightening out the imaginary lines and dropping St. Ferdinand Township. The Ninth's not to be changed at all.

A suggestion has been offered that Randolph County be taken out of the present Second District, represented by Congressman C. H. Mansur. This, Mansur's friends think, would insure his renomination and give N. S. Hall a chance to run in some cther district. The ex-President of the Farmers' Alliance has been campaigning in Mansur's territory for the past few months, and says he will make a speech in every school-house district. He wants to go to Congress badly, and he likewise desires to retire Mansur from that Congressional district. The 11 lives in Randolph, and if Mansur's friends can arrange matters they will take it from the present district.

The judicial districts threaten to cause a deadlock between the House and Senate. The bill passed by the House is by no means satisfactory to the Senate and before anything final is done there will have to be conference committees appointed. The House bill was gotten up with the one result of making the best showing for the dominant party, and a number of the senators declare they will never support it.

THE UNIVERSITY COMMITTEE MESTING.

ens that if the university is taken away the heirs of the men who paid the $140,000 bonus fifty-two years ago to get the institution on that soil will demand the return of the money, with full interest. They have legal advisers who say they can sue and recover the money. The supporters of the location say that this is merely a "bluff" and will not allow it to influence them.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY DELEGATION.

The St. LOUIS COUNTY DELEGATION is bushy engaged to-day pushing the claims of their section for the State University. The delegation arrived yesterday afternoon and went to work at once with State Senator Pollard and Representatives G. A. Murdeman and Groves McLane of St. Louis County. They are ready as soon as the University Committee is prepared to hear proposals. to substit the mooted question of the Assembly's power to relocate the university before it considers any of the proposals. The cities seeking to get it in the event it is taken away from Columbia are in addition to Alienton, Clinton, Sedalia, Kansas City, Marshall, Moberly, Independence and Boonville. Columbia's representatives here are still hard at work, and express the opinion that a liberal appropriation will be made and that it will be expended in the leading town of Boone County. In the delegation are Col. W. F. Switzler, excommissioner of Statistics; Col. E. C. Moore, ex-Minister to Mexico, and E. W. Stephens.

MB. STONE COULD NOT SPEAK.

The Jefferson City admirers of ex-Congressman W. J. Stone of Nevada, Vernon County, were disappointed last evening. They had invited him to deliver an address in the House of Representatives Hall, and he accepted. Yesterday afternoon he reached the city so hoarse that he could scarcely speak. For this reason he sent his regrets. The Jefferson City Democracy will try and arrange another date. Representative Dalton has accepted an invitation to speak March 10, and Judge Gibson, Lieut. Gov. Claycomb, Rev. W. Pope Yeaman and Col. D. W. Marmaduke are also expected to deliver addresses before the Assembly adjourns.

Dr. Taylor said that the stomach of Mrs. Baker, which he examined, was red. He gave it as his opinion that arsenic injected after death would not produce redness. He thought this color had been given in life. He stated that arsenic, zinc and mercury would penetrate every part of the body whether given during life or injected after death. Remarkable Demand in St. Louis for Inbrokers on Third street the general opic of conversation is the readiness with which all good securities are taken. Speculation has often been more active, but not for many years has there been such a demand for bonds and high class stock. Leading brokers state that they have only to offer good securities for sale to have them taken at once, and there is more demand than supply. One effect of this is the cancelling of loans made by the banks. Firms that buy stock and usually borrow part of the money to pay for them are now carrying a very light line of discounts, owing to the sharp demand that exists from private investors, a noticeable feature of this demand is the fact that comparatively little money is borrowed to meet payments, purchasers drawing their checks instead of borrowing. The existence of this investment demand is regarded as the best proof that can be given of the abundance of money in and the prosperity of the community. In spite of the fact that loans that are usually made for several months by the banks are required now but for a short time or not at all; there is an abundant demand for bank funds and plenty of money to supply the entire demand.

semblage the plack has ever held. The argument adopted by the gentleman from the Antipodes was strong and forceful and it struck home with telling effect on Maher, who found himself totally unable to cope with it. At the end of the twelfth round Maher gave up the discussion in disgust. He said that he found that he was unable to get in on his long-armed adversary and was tired of officiating as the receiving end of the battery. He might proceed with the fistic debate a while longer, but it was useless to do so, as he would only receive more punishment without standing any possible chance to win. He was no glutton and had received from Mr. Fitzsimmons all the hard blows he cared to accept.

Maher a QUITTER.

MAHER A QUITTER.

Maher was bleeding profusely from the mouth when he stopped, but was not badly punished. It was claimed that he was choked with blood, and that it was lack of wind which caused him to quit. Most people, however, ascribe it to lack of heart. Maher's conduct in quitting when he had received comparatively little punishment is in strange contrast with the behavior of game little Jack Dempsey, who after being knocked down and hammered about the ring for round after round, kept struggling to his feet only to go to earth again, but plucklily refused to quit until he received the blow which deprived him of consciousness. It has been said of hinher that he would rather fight than eat. He must have little use for food. Charley Mitchell said he regarded the Irish champion as the biggest coward that ever stepped into the ring and a disgrace to his country. Fitzsimmons, on the other hand, he declared surprised him by h iscleverness and he pronounced the New Zealander quite a fighter. Slavin expressed the same opinion of Fitz.

The result of last night's battle proves Fitz-simmons worthy to meet any fighter in the world, and no doubt he can defeat most of the aspirants for heavy-weight honors. Such men as George Godfrey and Joe McAuliffe would be easy marks for him, and he will world, and no doubt he can defeat most of the aspirants for heavy-weight honors. Such men as George Godfrey and Joe McAuliffe would be easy marks for him, and he will have to look among fighters of the Jackson and Slavin class for a worthy opponent. He can fight heavy enough to meet anybody, he weighing 168 pounds when he entered the ring last night—and he is tall enough and lonfi enough in the reach. In fact he has a remarkable reach, and that is one of his strongholds. The New Zealander has a muscular arm, too, and most powerful shoulders, and it is from the shoulders that the driving power comes. He is a wonderfully agile, shifty and clever man

EXODUS OF SPORTS.

The morning trains carried away many of the sports who saw last night's fight, and there will be a greater exodus this evening. The New York men and Easterners generally are very anxious to get away for they plunged heavily on Maher and are nearly, if not quite, broke.

Fitzsimmons had a good night's sleep and was up early this morning. By 10 o'clock he had come down to the St. Charles and had registered and was receiving the congratulations of hundreds of admirers. The reporter saw him just after he had been porter saw him just after he had been porter saw him just after he had been porter saw him just after he had been gones as well as he ever did in his life. He bore no marks resulting from last night's contest. He declined to talk of any plans for the future and referred all inquiries to Jimmy Carroli who, he said, was the business end of the firm. Fitzsimmons will probably go back to Bay St. Louis for a day of two and then go North with Carroll.

It Was an Elopement. WATERBURY, Conn., March 8 .- The man riage of Miss Mary J. Hemmingway, daughter of a wealthy resident of Conn., to George V. Gardner of New York, Conn., to George V. Gardner of New York, has caused a sensation here. The fact that the bride, immediately after the wedding, returned to her home while the husband went to New York, and that neither the bride nor the groom have seen each other since leads to the belief that the marriage was an elopement and that the parents of the young woman are trying to have the marriage annulled on the ground that she is not of marriageable age.

It is not through any fault of the farmers, but is the result of a determi ion on the part of the merchants to attain nation on the part of the merchants to attain such a result. The merchants have suffered seriously on account of the low price of that staple, and have positively refused to advance any supplies to farmers raising cotton. They agree, however, to advance supplies on corn, oats and such other products as can be culti-vated profitably in this section. The farmers have agreed to the terms and will raise corn and hogs instead of cotton this year.

MILLER'S NECK STRETCHED. The Slayer of Marshal Sprinkle Hanged by a Mob.

DEXTER, Mo., March 3.-Amos Miller, wh is said to have killed City Marshal Sprinkle last Saturday, was taken from the county jall at Bloomfield on Tuesday night and hanged. Four men went to the jail and forced the Sheriff to give up the prisoner and then took him to the outskirts of the town, where the mob was waiting. Proceeding about three-quarters of a mile, Milier was hanged to a tree. There were about fifty men in the mob. The shooting for which Miller was hanged occurred in this manner: On last Saturday Marshal Sprinkle had Miller under arrest, and a friend of Miller named Moore attempted his rescue. A. J. Cooper and Thomas Toole went to the Marshal's assistance and a general shooting took place. Cooper was killed and Toole had a hinger shot off. Sprinkle and Moore were wounded and Moore shot himself immediately after the fight. Sprinkle died the same day, stating on his Geath-bed that it was Miller who shot him. the prisoner and then took

The Governor telegraphed to Chief of Police Harrigan, instructing him to release Holloway if he offered a satisfactory bond. He gave a bond with W. A. Becktoid as surety, and went free. Then he went up to Jefferson City, and tried to induce Gov. Francis to withdraw the warrant. The Governor made inquiries about the case, and then refused the request. The result was that at noon yesterday, as Holloway was going into his office, he was arrested again by Detectives King and Ziegler, who took him to the holdover for the second time. He was then to be turned over Sheriff Young, who was to take him last night to Alabama, but Attorney Krum at once went to Judge Fisher and applied for a writ of habeas corpus for his client. The Judge granted it and set the next morning to hear the case.

once went to Judge Fisher and applied for a writ of habeas corpus for his client. The Judge granted it and set the next morning to hear the case.

When Judge Fisher called the case this morning the court-room was crowded with spectators, who had come to hear the evidence in a salacious suit waiting a trial. The Judge gave the Holloway matter precedence, believing it could be got out of the way in a few minutes. Attorney Krum opened the case. Orrick C. Bishop, representing the Circuit Attorney for Sheriff Young and the police department of the city, sat at the lawyers' table with Detective Desmond. Attorney Krum began his argument by moving for the discharge of Holloway on the ground that notwithstanding the return of Chief Harrigan, in whose charge the potitioner was, the return on its face showed that the man was being detained by the Chief of Police without any authority whatever. The return of the other simply stated that the prisoner was not in their charge at all. The attorney then read the warrant of the Governor, directed to the Sheriff or Marshal, and ordering constables and the police to assist the officers to whom it was directed in arresting Holloway. Then he read the return of Chief Harrigan, stating that the defendant was lawfully in his custody by virtue of the warrant, and claiming that as Holloway was in the position of a fugitive from justice in Alabama the court of Judge Fisher had no jurisdiction in the case.

"The return shows," said Attorney Krum, "that the writ has never been executed by the officers to whom it was directed, and has never gone into their hands. Those officers have been wholly ignored, and the Fo the officers to whom it was directed, and has never gone into their hands. Those officers have been wholly ignored, and the Police Department has undertaken to carry out the writ without reference to them."

The attorney was proceeding to carry out this technical line of argument, when Judge Fisher stopped him, seeing that there was likely to be a long debate.

"The Court is not disposed to hear this argument now," said the Judge; "this other case waits. I will resume the hearing at 2 o'clock."

State's Representative Bishop, mildly de-

"The Court is not disposed to near this arreagement now," said the Judge; "this other case waits. I will resume the hearing at 2 o'clock."

State's Representative Bishop mildly demurred. "I need not remlan the Court that this matter is urgent," he said, "we can dispose of it in a very short time."

"This other case may be on trial at 2 o'clock." suggested Attorney Krum.

"Well, if it is, we'll hear your argument in the morning," said Judge Fisher, decidedly. Attorney Krum was still dissatisfied and reminded the Judge that his client was still in custody.

"Well, you don't object to his remaining in charge of the police, do you?" asked the Judge.

"Not if they'll treat him like a white man," replied the attorney.

Chief of Detectives Desmond, who had risen, looked at him indignantly and then beckoned to Holloway. He arose, put on his silk hat, and made his way through the crowd in the court room, Detective Ziegler close by his side. Sheriff Young and Chief Desmond followed the two out of the room. Outside, on the broad flagging of Broadway, the officers put Holloway between them and started back to the Four Courts and the holdover, the prisoners' glistening silk hat rising conspicuous above the modest derples of the detectives and the slouch of the black-bearded Southern Sheriff.

When the court reconvened this afternoon Attorney Krum and State's Representative Bishop argued the questions of jurisdiction of the court and the proper service of the Governor's warrant. The Judge Normile was in town, and that the warrant should have been served by the Sheriff. He was proceeding to finish his decision when Attorney Krum asked him not to do so until he made an application to Judge Normile for a writ and bring the case before him. The attorney Krum asked him not to do so until he made an application to Judge Normile for a writ and bring the case before him. The attorney swa Sheriff's officer in the court-room waiting, and possibly like others, thoughthe was there to rearrest Holloway if he should be released.

"It is f

want you to consider the situation of this petitioner."

Judge Fisher said he would withold his decision till to-morrow. Then Attorney Krum gave notice that he would apply to-morrow morning for a writ of habeas corpus from Judge Normile.

"I don't want the Judge to grant Mr. Krum's request because of his statement that it is the practice to smuggle prisoners cut of the jurisdiction of the court," said State's Representative Bishop. "I am not, Mr. Bishop," said the judge. "I've seen them do it often enough," Attorney Krum muttered, turning away. Holloway again went back to the Four Courts with the detectives.

Not His First Experience.

John Webster, the sharp witted young man charged with making and passing co feits in Dunklin County, Mo., is said to be an old violator of the law. The Sheriff Ripley County, in a letter to United States Marshai Buchanon, says Webster was sent to the penitentiary about four years ago for burglary to serve a term of three years, and was held over-time for bad conduct. He was released in March. Webster made his appearance in the swamps of Dunklin County about Christmas time and it is thought be went there to bide as he will COLLINSVILLE'S GHOST.

W.L. Holloway of the Royal Pablishing Comust have spent a rather uncomfortable night in the holdover. When he came into judge Fisher's court-room this morning, between Detectives Wm. Desmond and L. J. Ziegler, and took off the spring slik hat that had given him an air of neatness as he walked through the streets, he looked like a man who had slept little. He was unshaven, his hair, which he wore somewhat long, was disheveled, and his tall form had that droop of the shoulders that indicates fatigue. He sat down at a table, and as he talked with John H. Boogher, one of his attorneys, he kept his eyes flashing about the court-room till the Judge went up to his seat and the interest was concentrated upon him. Near the prisoner, on the other side of the table, sat sheriff C. D. M. Young, the Alabama Sheriff, whose effort to take Holloway to Decatur is the cause of the pending proceedings in court.

SPEAKER CRISP'S SECRETARY CHARGED

the Claggett Case in the Senate-Cor gressman Springer Critically Ill-The President at Virginia Beach,

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 3.-There was a ripple of excitement this morning when the House assembled. Mr. Watson (Farmers' Alliance) of Georgia rose to a question of per copy of the Atlanta Constitution, containing article by E. W. B Washington correspondent clerk to Speaker Crisp, charging Republicans in the Craig-Stewart election case for financial considerations and the promises of money from the Republicans

With con siderable feeling, Mr. Watson de-nounced the article as false in every particular, and the insinuations there in as cowardly. The Speaker and every member in the House knew it to be false. He had voted on this case Honestly after review ing the testimony. Three Democrats had voted for the Republican contestee, Among the national Democracy, who was supposed by any test to come up to all the requirements of a lawyer. Mr. Babbitt of Wis consin and Mr. Hall of Minnesota both good lawyers and good Democrats, had also voted for Stewart and against their party because, upon the testi-mony and the law, it was a question on which lawyers could honestly differ. Many a wom-

ment, who has supervision of the work of the Pension Bureau, appeared before the special pension investigating committees to-day. He related the circumstances of young Raum's resignation and the peremptory instructions of Secretary Noble to carry out the demand for his resignation. Young Raum had denied the charges made against him and asked for a chance to make against him and asked for a chance to make a defense, Gen. Bussey stated that he did not care to express an opinion as to whether it was proper to give a discharged employe one month's leave with pay. That was in the discretion of the Secretary of the Interior, and he did not care to criticise his chief. Secretary Bussey stated, in answer to a question, that it was often the case that discharged employes were not given an opportunity to make a defense. "Don't you think good men are done an ince Justice Morris Decides That th Counselor Jefferson Storts says that Judge Morris of the First District Police Court over-ruled the Supreme Court in one of his decisions this morning. Katie and Mamie Laughlin were being tried and Mamie Laughlin were being tried for assaulting one of Jeff's clients, a Mrs. Alice Hollage, and he was trying to establish a good reputation for the prosecuting witness. He called several laddes to the stand, who said that Mrs. Hollage had an excellent reputation in the neighborhood in which she lived, but Mr. Reed, the attorney for the Laughlin girls, objected to the testimony because the witnesses had never heard Mrs. Hollage's reputation specially discussed.

Mr. Storts claimed that the Supreme Court had ruled that the best evidence of a good reputation was the fact that the person's reputation had never been discussed at all in the neighborhood, that only bad reputations were discussed.

Judge Morris: "If the Supreme Court ever made any such decision, it made a mistake, that's all."

made any such decision, it made a mistake, that's all.'

The evidence was ruled out.

The testimony in regard to the disturbance complained of showed that the women all lived in a tenement house on Belmont and Breden avenues, the Laughlin girls occupying the first floor and Mrs. Hollage, the second. Several other familie also lived in the same buildings and all used the same hydrant, in the back yard. The two families mentioned have been at outs a long time and one day last week they had a regular Kilkenny row in that back yard. Bricks were thrown and also stones, and Mrs. Hollage claims that Katle hit her on the head with a stick and that both sisters spat on her. The Hollage woman and Katle had a rough and tumble fight before they got through, and a bucket of water was spilled on one of the women. Ams. Dunn also took a hand in the affair for a little while, but got away as soon as she could. The trial was before a jury, who found Katle guilty, and dismissed Mamile. Katle was fined $10 and costs.

FIXING RATES.

Freight Association. KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 3.-Upon the re special meeting of the Transmissouri Freight Association is being held to-day, which will continue to-morrow, the purpose of will continue to morrow, the purpose of which is to agree upon a reduction of the Colorado & Utah rates. Both roads, which demanded the meeting, claim that the other roads, or some of them at least, have been cutting rates and they ask that rate be reduced to a point where this cutting will be impossible, the proposed reduction will average about 30 per cent on all classes. There is a good deal of doubt as to whether the proposed reduction will meet with the approval of the association. It is not alone Colorado and Utah rates that has called toall classes. There is a good deal of doubt as to whether the proposed reduction will meet with the approval of the association. It is not alone Colorado and Utah rates that has called together so many heads of departments of various roads, but fact that the Kansas rates will come up for discussion some time during its meeting. If the Rock Island decides to withdraw from the association it is not unlikely that a disastrous rate war will be inaugurated. A statement has been made to the Kansas City jobbers that Rock Island will not reduce rates from their present condition and the jobbers say they have been assured that the Rock Island would take the matter into court before the Kansas Commissioners' orders would be obeyed. The meeting is still in session.

From Chambers' Journal.

There is some little difficulty in defining what euphuism is, owing to the indiscriminate use of the word as a kind of synonym for the artificial wit and general effectation of Elizabethan times. The distinctive characteristics of Lyle's euphuism are now considered to be transverse alliteration, elaborate antithesis and a redundancy of similes from simple phenomena or fabulous natural history. As Sir Philip Sidney says:

Or with strange similes engine each lipe Or with strange similes enrich each line Of herbs or beasts, which Ind' or Africk hold

Of herbs or beasts, which lad or africk hold.

The simple stringing together of many words beginning with the same letter, as exemplified in the line "apt alliteration"s agtential aid," had but few charms for Lyle. His style is more complicated and dimcult, the alliteration being skillful, intricate and subtle. To give a correct idea of the transverse method it is necessary to quote an example: "I have skrined thee in my keart for a trustle friende, I will skunne thee kesreafter as a frothles foe.."

The following quotation will serve as a specimen of the remaining two chief characteristics: "The fine christall is sooner crayed than the harde marble, the greenest beeche burneth faster than the drysst oke, the fairest slike is soonest soyled and the sweetest wine turneth to the sharpest vine-gar."

Washington, D. C., March 3.—The storm which has been central near the middle Atlantic coast during the past three days has made some progress to the northward during the night and is now central over the gulf stream to the southeast of New England, attended by severe northerly gales from Eastport to Hatters. Snow continues on the New England coast and fair weather prevails in all other districts except in the northwest portion of the lake regions, where the cloudiness is increased, with local anows. It is alightly colder in the Nouthern States east of the Mississippi and on the Middle Atlantic coast, but it is warmer in the lake regions, and generally to the west of the Mississippi. Warmer, fair weather will prevail in the Southern and Middle Atlantic States Friday. The snow in New England will probably be followed by fair weather and rising temperature during Friday. The probabilities are that showers will prevail in the Northwest and Lake region Friday.

MISSISSIPPI WHALEBACKS. A New Mode of Construction Proposed-

Its Advantages. The question of the availability of whale-backs on the Mississippi River is believed by those who have the matter in charge to be on a fair way to solution. The problem that has hitherto puzzled the Marine engineers is how to construct a vessel that would be stable enough to be able to cross the ocean, and still have a draught sufficiently shallow to enable it to cross the bars of the river. The enable it to cross the bars of the river. The reports of the engineers show that the whalebacks used on the lakes are not suitable for river traffic. With a fall cargo they require twelve feet of water, and eight feet is the lightest draught with which profitable cargoes can be carried. As the depth of water on bars is below eight feet on the river, it was found that the plan would have to be abandoned. It is now, however, believed that this difficulty can be overcome, plans have been drawn, and within a few weeks the lines will be laid for an experimental vessel. The plan of a Boston shipbuilder will be tried. He proceeds on the idea that what is wanted on the river is light draught and heavy cargoes. The plan contemplated is to build a vessel that hall have a much greater diameter on the water line. In this manner the center of gravity will be lowered without increasing the Graught, and by lowering the center of gravity the necessary stability for ocean traffic can be obtained. The most serious objection advanced to this mode of construction is the great lack of speed that will result, but this is considered by the river shippers as a minor evil. By making the vessels early flat on the bottom, but correcting

MR. MYER IS THE BUYER.

Mr. Christy S. Church, a son-in-law of Mr. Geo. S. Myer of the Liggett & Myer Tobacco Co., has returned from Hot Springs and is credited with havingsaid that Mr. Myer, who is on his way to California, was overtaken at Hot Springs by, Mr. J. E. Kaime, who closed the sale with him of the property occupied by Wear, Boogher & Co. at the southwest corner of Sixth and St. Charles streets. In this way the purchaser is identified beyond question, a suggestion in last evening's Post-Disparci being confirmed thereby. It is also stated in real estate circles that the 150 feet of ground which Christy F. Church bought in Westmoreland place for $11,000 about two years ago has been sold by him to Mr. Myer for $30,000, that is $200 a foot.

The Mathews Realty Co. reports the sale of the five-room frame house and 2xx117 foot lot at No. 3847 Lincoin avenue for $2,700, from Louis Jackson to W. L. Collins.

A sale of 100x142½ feet of ground on the north line of olive street, between Grand and Cabanne, is reported at $100 a foot, from M. L. Gerbart, who negotiated the transaction, says the purchaser has already been offered $120 a foot for the eastern half of his purchase, but that he is going to improve the whole of it with stores and flats in keeping with the character of the street.

The property at the southwest corner of Westminster place and Whittier street, and at the northwest corner of McPherson and Whittier street, sold by C. C. Nicholis for $26,400, owned by M. F. Watts and Louis Chauvenet, was purchased by a syndicate which owns considerable other property in that locality.

John Ratican, the Union Depot cab-driver, was fined $2 in the Carondelet Police Court yesterday for resisting arrest. About three weeks ago Officer Gannon tried to suppress Ratican, who was making himself obnoxious to the public at the depot. Ratican assaulted Gannon, and when Officer Quigley ran to the rescue Ratican turned upon him. He was arrested on charges of disturbing the peace and resisting arrest. On the first charge he was fined $10 and took an appeal, and had the second case removed to the Carondelet Police Court where it was tried this morning. Ratican secured a warrant from Justice Ryan against Officer Quigley, charging the officer with assault and battery.

A Man Arrested for a Safe Robbery at For Nearly Ninety Years Lucy Rideley

New York, March 3 .- In the basement of bad reputation by federal officials, is in the dingy-looking house, 758 Greenwich street, lies the body of a very old colored woman say that she was more than 117 years old. Her Walter Atkinson after a short fight. Curry is name was Lucy Rideley, and she was born on the plantation of James Doweney, near . 0xford, N. C., Dec. 17, 1774. For nearly ninety years she was a slave. When James Downey died long ago Dr. James Rideley bought the girl. He, too, lived near Oxford. Lucy married, and had children. Then war came and rulned the Rideleys. "Then," said Rebecca, her granddaughter. "granny was left just like a po' cle played out hoss to die in ther' field." But one of her sons-in-law took care of her for fourteen years, and when he died Rebecca brought her grandmother to New York. Lucy was a remarkably large and powerful woman in early life, being nearly 6 feet tail and weighing about 200 pounds, but she was greatly shrunken and withered during the last score of years. She was able, with assistance, to walk up the basement steps until a year ago. Since last summer she had been unable to leave her rooms. Two weeks ago her speech and eyesight, which had been fair to that time, falled her. Her mind, however, had been weak for a long time. Four of her grandchildren are now living. Of the great grandchildren thirteen are in this city and twenty live in Tennessee, Georgia and Florida. The granddaughter is very poor, and it is likely that the city may have to bury the old slave's girl. He, too, lived near Oxford. Lucy mar

SECOND BAPTIST CHURCH REVIVAL Evangelist Pratt Begins Special Services at That Church.

The special services at the Second Baptist Church, under charge of the Rev. Mr. Pratt, began last evening. The evangelist was greeted with a very large audience, the prayer-meeting room being crowded.

Mr. Pratt delivered a brief discourse on the words, "Be it unto thee even as thou wilt."

He discussed the importance of prayer, and emphasized the need of putting one's will into prayer, and of praying with confident and importunate earnestness. That sort of praying would bring about a revival.

A session of prayer then followed, and then ten minutes were given to requests for prayer. Many members of the church wanted prayer that they might get closer to God.

wanted prayer that they might get closer to God.

Mr. Pratt's manner of speaking is easy and conversational and quite devoid of rhetorical ornament. If any expected sensational fireworks they were disappointed. His simple and earnest way made an excellent impression. He is an evangelist of many years' experience; he comes here from Grand Rapids, Mich., where he leaves a revival in full blast. Mr. B. F. Jacobs, who assists him as a stager, arrived this morning and will participate in all the meetings. The church has a nice little "choral union" that will be made available during the engagement of the evangelists.

Mr. Pratt will preach this and to-morrow evenings and at $p. m. to-day and to-morrow. Wible readings will be held.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon occurred the funeral of Mr. W. m. Pape at the Second Baptist Church. He was for years the "senior deacon" of that body. The obsequies were simple and yet imposing.

mr. Clark: "Tes, tour hoor. They were found in his possession."

The Court: "Well, that is enough to fine him on."

"Mr. Clark: "They expect to take out a warrant for him to-day or to-morrow."

The Court: "I can't hold a prisoner on any such ground. I can't hold a prisoner on any such ground. I can't hold a prisoner on any such ground. I can't hold him for the authorities in New York or Philadelphia or some other city. That is not law. It may be the policy of the Police Department, but it is not law. If this man is wanted in some other State the authorities of that have had three days in which to extradite him. I don't see why this court should be made a drag net of for some other State. The city is entitled to one day's continuance if it wants it, and so has the defendant, on the ground of the absence of witness, but if a longer continuance is wanted I must have the names of the absence of witness, but if a longer continuance is wanted I must have the names of the absence of witness, but if a longer continuance is wanted I must have the names of the absence of witness, but if a longer continuance is wanted I must have the names of the absence. "Then you can get a continuance for from one day up to ten, but no longer. What do you know about this Mr. Clark: "I know only what Mr. Mc. Grath says."

Mr. Clark: "I know only what Mr. Mc. Grath says."

Mr. Furling claimed that the prisoner had already been held thirty-six hours and that a continuance for longer than one day now would be a gross injustice. The police had had all the time that was necessary to bring people here to identify the defendant. The Court: "I don't think there is any reason for a longer continuance to tomorrow.

Mr. Clark asked that the same course between with Welcook's case and with the same course between with Welcook's case and with the same course between with Welcook's case and with the same course between with Welcook's case and with the same course between with Welcook's case and with the same course between with the same course between

Chief Harrigan received a letter from Chicago's Chief of Police to-day, in which the writer says: "If Watson or Waldon is our own John J. Henry, he is a native of Boston, Mass., and a clerk by occupation. I inclose a photo of Henry, taken in '88, which you will please return. He has been arrested here for larceny, burglary and attempted rape, and was sentenced by Judge McConneli July 25, '89, to two years at Joliet."

The picture, or rather two pictures—for there are two of them—are splendid likenesses of Watson. He was in Joliet for burglary and larceny. Soon after the case in the Police Court was continued this morning, Mr. Wm. Potter, Gould's business manager, arrived and swore out a warrant for burglary and larceny against the two men. The and larceny against the two men. The amount they got was $10 instead of $60 as at first reported.

Mrs. Theresa Blannerhassett-Adams of the St. Louis Board of World's Fair Commissioners for Missouri is very much exercised over the position taken by the masculine commissioners in denying to the ladies thus far any appropriation out of the $150,000 set aside by the State for its exhibit. Speaking of the matter to-day Mrs. Blannerhassett-Adams

"The woman's department of the World's Fair ambraces all of the twelve departments which constitute the classifications of the Columbian Exposition, making it possible for women to enter any one of these and when their work in competition with man's. Fair smbraces all of the twelve departments which constitute the classifications of the Columbian Exposition, making it possible for women to enter any one of these and place their work in competition with man's; not a surprising fact when it is remembered that in five countries of the world there are to-day 19,700,000 women engaged in industrial pursuits alone. So much for the existence of a department for woman's work. In reference to State work. Missouri has seven men and four women commissioners and a State appropriation of $150,000. At the December meeting of the commission the woman's department (through the St. Louis World's Fair Association, the only organized body for 'woman's work' for the World's Fair in the State), asked what percent of the State fund would be given that department. The question not having been answered the matter may be said to be still in abeyance. The commissioners also published their conviction that the present appropriation of $150,000 was totally inadequate for properly presenting the resources of the State. It has been said that somewhere 'there is the sum of $15,000 or 20,000 which would be devoted to giving the women a chance to show their ability, if only they, the women, could teil definitely what they proposed to do. To this remarkable statement I wish to pay my respects. As has been explained Congress and the Columbian Commission give the women of all States the Opportunity to show their ability, but in Missouri the Board of Lady Managers has no voice in the State exhibit, because that is the law, or rather the omission of the law, and so we must act under instructions. Now the commission has entire charge of this exhibit, which is the aim of the Womanieston will mass its work at our own St. Louis Exposition next fall so as to syst emaitze its beas efforts in that direction. Further, this guarantee cannot be questioned; the plans and specifications for the State building, have been issued under their supervision. I am sure there are not ten women workers of Missouri, w

"A Night's Frolic" has made a pleasing impression at the Hagan. The comedy is of a light and rollicking order, and Augustus Thomas has written bright lines into the adaptation of the German farce. Miss Barry makes a dashing figure as the French chasseur, and her support is excellent, particularly Mary Shaw, who gives some of the cleverest work of the performance as Miss Ledley.

'The Pupil in Magic," which has scored a phenomenal success at the Olympic during the present week, will be kept on the boards during the second week of the Liliputians' engagement Before the company came here it was the intention of the management to present a new play the second week, but the houses during the first part of the engagement have been so enormous that the change of bill for the next week could not be thought of. Enough people have been turned away since Sunday to fill the house over again and to gratify the desire of all to see this excellent spectacular play, it has been decided to present it throughout the second week. This will be the last chance to see them in this play as the third and last week the Liliputians will bring the first production of their new play "Candy," which has been in preparation for more than a year. The advance sale for the second week commenced this morning.

sale for the second week commenced this morning.

The engagement of Mme. Modjeska at the Grand Opera-house promises one of the most important and brilliant weeks of legitimate drama of the present season. Of Modjeska's personal qualities as an artiste, it is not necessary to inform St. Louisans. Grace and personal charm combine with finish and a high order of ability in hisr work. She carefully elaborates the details of her impersonations and is both delicate and forceful. A most attractive repertoire is announced. One performance of her new play, "The Countess Rondine," will be given, and, in addition, "As You Like It." "Mary Stuart," "Measure for Measure." "Camille," "Much Ado About Nothing," and "Macbeth," "As You Like It."

be remarkably clever. Miss Isabelle Coe is said to make a charming realization of the title role, and those who are cognizant of her beauty and charming work can well believe it. The company has been carefully selected and a special effort will be made to give it an artistic setting at the Hagan next week. The ladies' dresses were made from special designs by the eminent artist, W. H. Day, who is the designer to the Lyceum Theater. New York City. The blending of colors is said to be of the most exquisitely artistic order, whilst the materials used are of the richest kind.

Cheever Goodwin has done some clever work in the libretto, and the music is catchy. The company's forces are large and the scenes are brilliant in costumes, pretty figures and faces and picturesque stage setting. De Wolf Hopper is at his best as "Wang" and Della Fox is as clever in her work as she is dainty in appearance. The company does clever work, and besides the personal hits made the song and dance by the little ones fairly captivate the house. The sale for the remainder of the week has been enormous.

"A Night's Frolic" has made a pleasing impression at the Hagan. The comedy is of a light and rollicking order, and Augustus Thomas has written bright lines into the adaptation of the German farce. Miss Barry makes a dashing figure as the French chasseor, and her support is excellent, particu-followed by the popular melodrama "The Dan Sully in his new and popular play "The Militonaire," will be the attraction at Pope's next week.

To make clothes sweet and clean wash them with Clariette Soap. At your grocer's. Contesting His Mother's Will.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3.—Charles Fair, the young son of the bonanza millionaire, is in town, and his presence, taken in connection with the trip of Mrs. Herman Oelrichs from New York, has led to reports that Charley intends to contest his mother's will by which only $500,000 was left him, the principal of which he cannot handle until he is 35 years old.

Striking.

The delicate aroma and fruit taste of articles flavored with Dr. Prices Delicious Flavoring Extracts as contrasted with the coarse and disagreeable taste of those flavored with the common flavoring extracts now in the market, is really one of the striking peculiarities of these famous and valuable products. The difference is so notable that any person once using Dr. Price's Flavors will never again use any other. They are valuable additions to our food, the use of which is certain to increase as knowledge of their superior qualities tinguished father would be the publication of the story of her life, with all the correspondence between herself and young James G. It is supposed that she will undertake the publication of these facts shortly after her arrival here.

A brief statement made by the divorced wife's mother, Mrs. Col. Nevins, has been published, but she has since consented to talk more fully. Col. and Mrs. Nevins are at the New York Hotel. To a reporter she said: "This is not the first time Mr. Blaine has been called upon to defend some of his domestic arrangements, and I think he has made a greater blunder even than he did before when he wrote that letter to Mr. William Walter Phelps, which amused the Democrats and made the Republicans crazy.

"I do not care to refer to anything in the statement except that which bears directly on myself. He states that I made a scene. There was no scene in the house at Augusta until after Hefti. I left my duughter in the house, waiting for the baby. James G. Blaine, Jr., was locked in his room. His wife could not get to him. Mr. Blaine does not refer to that because there was no witness.

"I deny that I abused his son, except in "Heavy that I abused his son, except in could testiny to the tast, one, because there was no witness.

"Ideny that I abused his son, except in this way. This was not in my testimony. I'll tell you just exactly how I did refer to his son. After we had had this conversation and Mrs. Blaine refused to allow my daughter to see her husband, and various other things had been said in regard to the child, and we had been baffled at every point—all these things are on record," continued Mrs. Nevins, in parenthesis, "and Mr. Blaine has challenged the Judge and the Judge will probably have to publish the testimony in defense of himself.

"They knew all the time that the testimony was going against their son. Why did not they go into court? They had typewritten documents. They knew every bit of testimony. The Judge dealt very kindly and tenderly with them. Why then did not they go into court and try the thing properly?

"When Mrs. Blaine had nothing more to say," continued Mrs. Nevins, resuming her story, "she turned to my daughter and said. Weil, Marle"—the thing had nothing to do with the wedding—that was all over. There was a little baby born. They were expecting another.

"There was every reason why this poor restree the search of the search of the dealt kindly with. Mrs.

was a little baby born. They were expecting another.

"There was every reason why this poor creature should be dealt kindly with, Mrs. Blaine turned around after she had nothing more to say after she had refused everything my daughter asked, and said: "Well, Marle," as if to excuse herself for her conduct, 'the marriage was all wrong, anyhow.' That was the first time! said a word—that is, an independent word.

"Just as if lightning had lighted up the past! said: 'You are scarcely the person to say such a thing as that, Mrs. Elaine. You know there was nothing wrong about the marriage except that she married without the consent of her parents and married a very young man, and a dissipated young man. But,' I added, 'there had been nothing really wrong hout the married woman, and a dissipated young girl can ever be a pure married woman.

"Now,"! added Mrs. Nevins. "If Mrs. Blaine had no reason to get angry why should she got angry? But at that she was perfectly

"Now." added Mrs. Nevins. "If Mrs. Blaine had no reason to get angry why should she get angry? But at that she was perfectly indignant, and I rose to my leet. Those were my parting words, and I said, 'Marie, ring for your baby and let us go. We can get nothing out of such people as these.' Now this is the place where Mr. Blaine says there was a scree.

this is the place where Mr. Blaine says there was a scene.

"I went to the carriage. My daughter rang the bell to summon the nurse to bring the baby. I said I would wait for them in the carriage. Her maid appeared almost immediately. Mrs. Blaine was hurrying out of the back parior door and I was going out of the front parlor door and my daughter was standing in the parlor.

"Mrs. Blaine said most insultingly to the servant as she came in, "Stay here and watch those people,"—as if we were thieves. Well, she didn't say that exactly. I did not feel angry even then. I felt rather pitying than otherwise. It seemed to tell the woman's whole life history—the battle she had with people—"Stay here and watch those people." The servants all turned against the Blaines. We knew everything that was done in that house from the servants. They even came to see us at the hotel. Those servants were poor, hard-working people, and I don't believe the fear of the Blaines would compel them to tell an untruth about anything now.

"The Blaines never in the world supported

"The Blaines never in the world supported this child. My daughter could have had her husband arrested just as any laboring woman could—she had just as much right; but she felt she was too delicate to do such a thing. She did not care to have ft go on record against the child's father, for the child to know when he grew up. She was willing to wait and see if anything should be done in an honorable way.

know when he grew up. she was willing to wait and see if anything should be done in an honorable way.

"I am only sorry now they were not sued for damages and libel, and I told my daughter that if she gave the money to a charitable institution it would be a good thing. It should be done, in the light of what has transpired.

"Wriat excuse is there for abandoning the child? Men often abandon their parents; but there is scarcely a laboring man or tramp on earth that will abandon his little child. Not one single creature of them sent a penny to that child. They would allow the public or anybody to do anything for him. The world is getting pretty tired of that kind of people. It is not where you are, but how did you get there; what were the means? I think these questions will be answered before many years and we will get back to good, old respectable times again.

"I am sorry to see from Mr. Blaine's letter that his son is so deceitful. I really liked him. I used to think that, as Mr. Blaine says, his son was more sinned against than sinning, and that his family had placed him in this position. I am sorry his father tells me of such a deceitful man, such an awful creature. The young man improved very much after his marriage, and I think he would have continued to improve. Of course, if he had habitually drunk heavily my daughter could not have ived with him, for he was dangerous. But his sprees were few and far between. I think he might have got over would have continued to improve. Of course, if he had habitually drunk heavily my daughter could not have lived with him, for he was dangerous. But his sprees were few and far between. I think he might have got over them in time. Mr. Blaine states that his son was not 18 and my daughter was a woman of fully 21 years when they were married. I do not pretend to know anything about his son's age, but my daughter was not 21 any more than his son was 18. His son looked 26 years old. He had a heavy mustache when he was married and looked, as I say, at least 26. When he came here from Augusta he had only what was leit of $15 cash, and he arrived with old sea trunks tied with rope. My son telegraphed for money, and until January my daughter and her husband were his guests. About January Mr. Blaine began to give his son little chances of earning some money. When they went to Pittsburg my daughter did work on the staff of the Dispatch with her husband.

"When her husband went to Augusta my daughter wrote to him, and not getting replies, registered her letters. She said: 'It will be such a satisfaction to see his handwriting on the receipt.' So the Postmaster sent for a receipt for her and it was not in her husband's handwriting. It was in the writing of Waiker Blaine, so her letters evidently never reached her husband. This was one of the things that made her feel she must go to Augusta to see him.

"Poor old lady Blaine! She just does what she feels like doing, and II she had a quarrel with you she would just slap you in the face. Mr. Blaine hugs you with one arm and hits you in the back with the other. Mr. Blaine is the worst. But I am surprised that he has opened a door which the public so kindly closed for him. It is open now—open to stay. I will have nothing to do with that. But others will."

Friends of the statesman believe that the scandal and annoyance growing out of the marriage of young Mr. Blaine had much to do with the general breakdown of the Scare-tary of State, and has been the chief cause of his putting aside the political ambition of his life. The series of misfortunes that have befallen the Biaine family within the past few years cannot be recalled without the conviction that they have contributed largely to the fillness of Mr. Blaine and his desire for a life of quiet and freedom from political warfare. The death of Walker Entipe, the oldest son; of Mrs. Coppinger, the oldest daughter, and of the sister of Mrs. Blaine, and the scandal caused by the repeated misbehavior of James G. Blaine, Jr., which culminated in his secret marriage, have broken the health and spirit of Mrs. Blaine, as well as that of her husband, until both of them are far different persons in appearance and feeling than they were a few years ago.

Friends of the Blaine family also say James YOUNG MRS. BLAINE. MRS. NEVINS TALKS FREELY OF HER FATHER DUCET'S LETTER. New York, March 3.—Father Ducey arrived here yesterday. He said to a reporter that he was in a state of "perfect complacency" "Mr. Blaine's letter," he said, "contains othing that is new to me. When I read the letter in 1883, I said all I had to say on the subject. I said it in the answer I wrote to Mr. Blaine. He has that letter. If he wanted to submit the details of the whole affair to the public, why did he not publish my rethe public, why ply?"

Col. Nevins, father of Mrs. James G. Blaine, Jr., said that he knew Father Ducey intimately. "Iknow what I am talking about," said he, when I say that Father Ducey cannot make public his reply to Mr. Biaine for the reason that he did not keep a copy of it. It would hardly do for him to give the letter from memory."

WHAT PROMPTED THE LETTER. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 3.-The Blaine Nevins family jar is still a topic among all

A friend of the Blaine family said to-day that Mr. Blaine's letter was undoubtedly prompted by Mrs. Blaine. The Secretary' wife has been under the care of a physician wife has been under the cere of a physician all winter. She is described by those who know her best as a woman of an aggressive disposition. Her temper is easily ruffled, and when a conviction is once reached her manner is very positive. Sha has been much wrought up over the details of the divorce suit at Deadwood, and it is believed that she has orged the Secretary to the defense which he has made. Mrs. Blaine's influence has been proved in the past to be strong enough to induce him to give up even presidential aspirations.

fect It Will Have.

The question of interstate commerce as complicated with international commerce, the adjustments in the weights being satisas defined by the decision of Judge Allen in the United States Court at Springfield, Ill., was the subject of general discussion on the floor of the Merchants' Exchange to-day, and while the effects of the decision could not be foreseen, it was the opinion of the majority that it seriously threatened the majority that it seriously theatened that shipments from American shipping ports would be made direct to Europe, and the American roads thus be placed on an equality with the Canadian. A telegram received from Washington proved that this view was incorrect. It was pointed out that when an American railroad connected with a steamship line, that the law had provided that the road might be compelled to show that it had received its full ratio of the freight charge. When, however, a foreign railroad was concerned, this rule did not apply. The result that many believe will follow is that the lines connecting with Canadian roads will be able to obtain a most undue share of the traffic by cutting on the long haul, and that the tendency will be to decrease shipments from the Guif ports, and largely increase those from Canada. Chicago shippers are even more disturbed, as the decision is regarded as a direct blow at the Michigan Southern and Michigan Central. TRACK TALK.

Toano is now regarded as the crack sprinter running at Guttenburg. Jockey Barnes is said to be doing so well in its new venture in Chicago that he will not be een in the pigskin this summer. The races at Guttenburg were again post-poned yesterday, Tuesday's show storm hav-ing rendered the track unsafe. The entries stand. stand.

They are having hot times at the Gloucester track over the disagreement of "Boss". Thompson and Judge Nelson. Nelson resigned his position as presiding judge.

W. C. France & Son of Lexington, Ky., have bought of A. H. Moore, Philadelphia, the brown stallion Commoneer, 6 years, by Electiooneer, dam Molile Cobb by Gen. Benton, for $12,500.

Jockey C. McDonald of the Honly stables incurred the enmity of Col. Chinn for willfully breaking, contrary to orders, in the fourth race yesterday, and was in consequence set down by the stable for an indefinite period.

Burton C. Webster, the bookmaker, who is on trial for the killing of Goodwin at New York City, denies that he won $10,000 last week on Forest king and other horses at the Guttenburg course. Several bookmakers who know something about the matter smiled when they read the denial. Who got the money if Webster didn't?

BASE BALL. At the League meeting in New York yes-terday the report submitted by the National BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis., March 2.—A certain opera troupe of not very refined or der was billed in this city yesterday. Many of these bills contained pictures of a highly sensational nature. Members of the local W. C. T. U. demanded of the manager of the journal of the popera-house that the bills be at once torn down, or threatened to take the matter into their own hands. The manager not immediately complying with their request, the ladies, who are wives of prominent business men in this city, hired boys to destroy the bills from the boards and the union has declared a boycott on the opera-house.

Mr. Thompson's Friends Anxious.

St. PAUL, Minn., March 3.—Friends of C. G. Thompson, a well-known dealer in electrical supplies, are considerably alarmed over the mysterjous disappearance of that gentleman. It is reported that he has not been seen by his family since last Saturday afternoon. It is suggested that, he may have simply gone on a visit to wealthy relatives in essent or other troubles are known.

THE RING.

The general impression among the public is that Jonn L. Sulivan is. "blowing in" his money as fast as he gets it. He is, however, laying away some money for a rainy day, says a Boston exchange, and he has already began to invest in real estate.!

Last week he purchased for $6,500 cash a residence on Brook avenue, Mt. Pleasant, and his married sister is now occupying it. Some of the neighbors made a kick about the champion coming to live there, but the party who sold the house paid no attention.

Gen. Geo. W. Jones.

Gen. Geo. W. Jones, the first Senator from lowa, a man who has been a Judge, a Minister abroad and has served this country in various capacities, was admitted to the bar in Des Moines one day last week, and at the age of 90 takes up again the practice of law. He has passed through many and exciting scenes, but he appears as ready and willing to begin life now as he was when he presented in Congress the act organizing the Territory of Wisconsin in 1836. It is pleasant to reflect that these old pioneers are with us. It shows that a man may resist the frosts of age if he will but take care of himself. The danger to be apprehended from old age is taking cold. If old people will but take REID'S GERMAN COUGH AND KIDNEY CURE they will escape all danger from this source. This great remedy is the best thing for all maladies of the throat and lungs that was ever put upon the market. It contains no opium, ether, chloroform or other deleterious substance. Get it of any dealer. The price puts it within the reach of every one. Small bottles, 25 cents; large ones, 50 cents. SYLVAN REMEDY CO.,
